

PARKING INFORMATION

The Ackland Art Museum does not have a dedicated visitor parking lot.
Instead, parking can be found at many nearby town lots.

BUSES

Bus drivers should be prepared to drop off their group in front of the Ackland and then park the bus off-site. Parking for school or coach buses is available in the University Place parking lot. Turn right on Franklin Street and take it to Estes Drive. Turn right and go one block. University Place will be on the left. Turn-by-turn directions are also available online through Google Maps: <http://goo.gl/maps/x2QNe>

*If the driver is one of your chaperones, you must arrange for someone to transport him/her to the Museum as it is a thirty-minute walk from University Place. The Chapel Hill Transit (free) G Route Bus is also available on a limited schedule from University Place Mall (#6) to the Ackland (#3).

Instructions for the bus driver:

- ✓ Going north on S. Columbia Street (toward Franklin Street), stop in the far right lane in front of the Ackland Art Museum and put on your flashers.
- ✓ As you unload, make sure that at least one adult gets off the bus with every 15 students.
- ✓ After unloading, park the bus/van at University Place.
- ✓ Return to the Ackland (giving yourself 10 minutes of travel time) and stop again in front of the Museum for the children to load back on the bus.

Alternative bus parking available in the following UNC locations:

- The corner of Boundary Street and Battle Lane behind the Forest Theater. One space is available until 12:00 noon on a first-come, first served basis. (not sure if time has been extended to 2:00p)
- The travel lane in front of the Dean E. Smith Center may be used unless area is reserved unless area is reserved for Smith Center or Kenan Stadium event. Please do not block the Chapel Hill Transit bus stop.

15-PASSANGER VANS

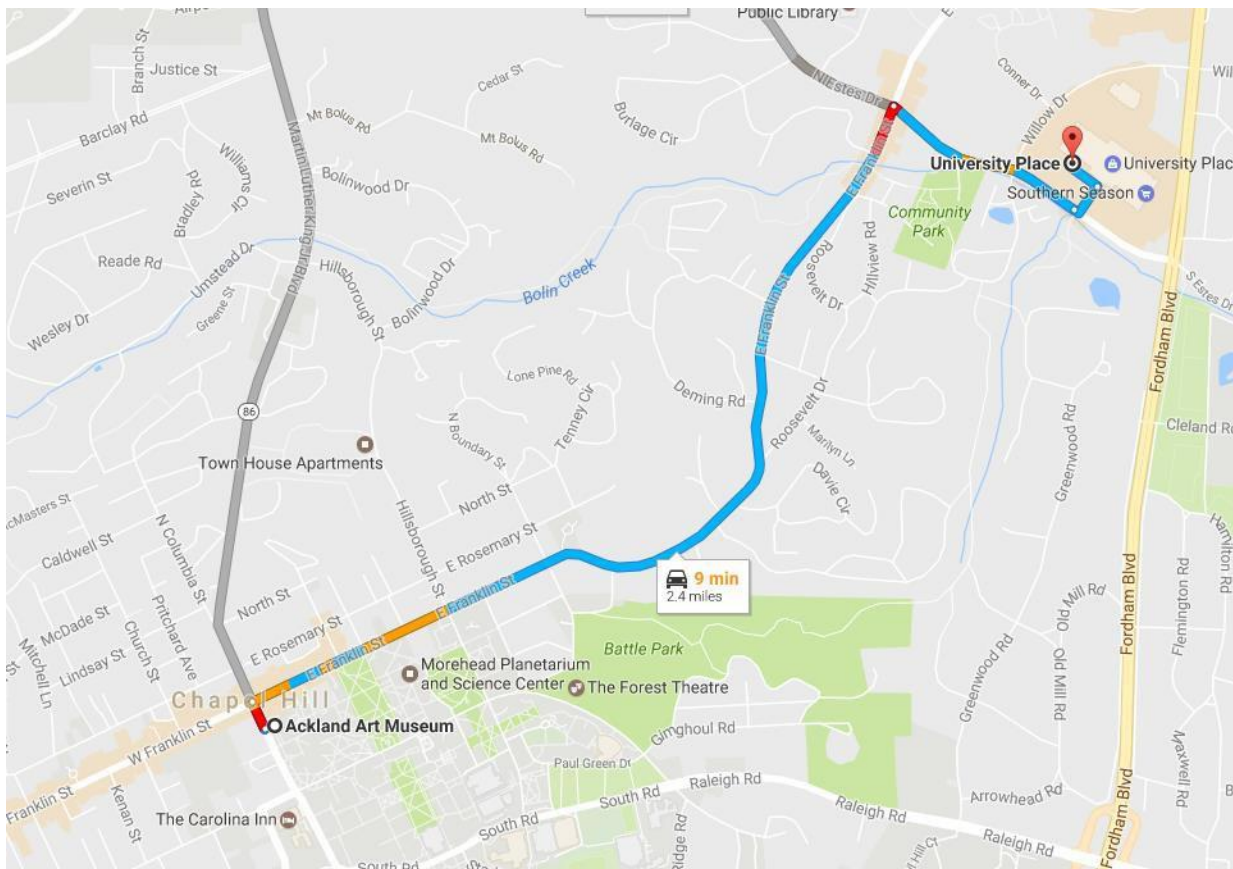

If you are driving a fifteen-passenger van, you may park it in the open public lot on the corner of Rosemary and Columbia streets (lot 15 on the map on the following page).

CARS

If you are in a private car, you may use any of the lots on the map below. The costs for these lots range from $.50 per half hour to $1.50 an hour. Most of these lots are free on Sundays. A limited number of metered spaces are also available as shown on the map below. These spaces are $1.25 for an hour payable at multi-space parking meters. After 8pm on weekdays and on Sundays metered parking is free. All charges can be paid by cash or card.

As parking regulations often change, please feel free to check the Town of Chapel Hill website before your Visit: www.parkonthehill.com. The Ackland Art Museum is on South Columbia Street near the corner of Franklin Street. (This site will also include information on altered parking patterns during large on-campus events like basketball and football games.)
