

ACKLAND

Object Lessons: What's on View

North Carolina Pottery

Spring 2021

Benjamin Wade Owen American, North Carolina, Moore County, Westmoore, 1904 – 1983 Tea Pot, 1960s lead-glazed earthenware From the Ruth and Ira Julian Collection, 89.37ab
Benjamin Wade Owen American, North Carolina, Moore County, Westmoore, 1904 – 1983 Demijohn, c. 1960s stoneware From the Ruth and Ira Julian Collection, 89.40
Enoch Spinks Craven American, North Carolina, Randolph County, 1810 – 1893 Five-Gallon Jug, c. 1850 salt-glazed stoneware Ackland Fund and Gift of Howard A. Smith, by exchange, 90.90
Jugtown Pottery American, North Carolina, Moore County, founded c. 1922 Dogwood Vase, c. 1930s Chinese white-glazed stoneware Gift of Ann and John Sanders in honor of Ben and Margaret Williams, 90.112
Himer Jacob Fox American, North Carolina, Chatham and Randolph Counties, 1826 – 1909 Pitcher, 19th century salt-glazed stoneware Gift of Charles Millard in honor of Charles Zug, 2001.12.2
Jugtown Pottery American, North Carolina, Moore County, founded c. 1922 Bowl, early 20th century stoneware with “Chinese blue” glaze Gift of Virginia Swain Smith, 2003.6

W. Mark Hewitt British, active in North Carolina, Chatham County, born 1955 Large Lidded Jar, 1993 salt-glazed stoneware Gift of Charles Millard in memory of Frances Smyth, 2011.10
John Wesley Hilton American, North Carolina, Catawba County, 1846 – 1923 One-Gallon Jar, 19th century alkaline-glazed stoneware Gift of Charles Millard, 2019.4.26
Edgar Allen Poe American, North Carolina, Cumberland County, Fayetteville, 1858 – 1934 One-Gallon Jug, c. 1890 salt-glazed stoneware Gift of Charles Millard, 2019.4.34	