

Ackland Graduate Internship

Description

The Ackland Graduate Internship is the Museum's most flexible graduate position. This internship focuses on the opportunity to learn about the substance and methods of museum work and can be based in one of several Museum departments. Each year, internship projects are designed to correspond to both student interests and Ackland priorities and may include, among other responsibilities: Collection research and interpretation; Exhibition planning, research, writing, and interpretation; Teaching University class sessions in the Ackland.

Eligibility

Students who are currently enrolled in any graduate program at UNC-Chapel Hill and who will also be enrolled at UNC-Chapel Hill for the academic year 2022-2023 are eligible to apply. Selection is based on the likelihood of the applicants' benefitting from the internship; there are no specific requirements for academic discipline or prior museum experience.

Term

Academic year 2022-2023 (mid-August through early May). The Ackland Graduate Intern works 20 hrs/week during that term, but does not work during academic breaks and holidays.

Award

The position includes

Stipend, $19,000 for the academic year plus the cost of student fees

Health insurance

NC resident tuition

May be eligible for tuition remission, arranged through the intern's home department

Application Due 5:00 PM, February 1, 2022

Applications should be submitted electronically and should include:

A statement of no more than two typed pages explaining the applicant's interest in the position and relevant background and skills.

A curriculum vitae

Academic transcripts for the previous semester of study (unofficial copies are acceptable)

Two letters of recommendation

Finalists will be interviewed. The Ackland Art Museum will announce the selected candidate by March 25, 2022.

Submit electronic applications and any questions to acklandlearn@unc.edu