

Ackland Art Museum Use Policy

The following policy statements govern the use of the Ackland Art Museum at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill for special events.

I. General

The Ackland Art Museum's purpose is to employ original works of art to educate and delight in order to fulfill the University's tripartite teaching, research, and public service mission. The Museum's primary goals are to:

- Be a vital part of the University's academic community and surrounding communities
- Inspire learning and creativity
- Foster appreciation and understanding of diverse cultures

The academic and cultural resources of the Ackland Art Museum are integral to the tripartite mission of the University and enhance that mission by extending the use of special sections of its building to citizens of North Carolina and other constituencies of the University. The following policies governing the use of the Ackland Art Museum are in harmony and consistent with the University's Policy on Use of University Facilities and the University's Policy on Alcohol Use.

All groups using the Ackland Art Museum must agree to abide by all Museum and University policies relating to matters of safety, liability, nondiscrimination, nondisturbance, civil obedience, use of grounds, food, beverage and alcohol use, and other relevant Museum and University policies.

All groups must exercise extreme care not to touch, lean against, sit on, and in any way damage the works of art in the Museum. The slightest human touch or bit of food or drink can damage an irreplaceable work of art. Groups using the Museum are liable and will be billed for any damage to the works of art as well as to the building and its furnishings.

The Museum reserves the right to ensure that all programs and events are conducted in a manner consistent with the purpose and policies established for the Museum.

All printed materials including invitations and public relations efforts relating to the event must refer to the museum in the following way: Ackland Art Museum, The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill.

II. Conditions and Limitations for Use

Because the Ackland Art Museum is a fragile environment, with limited space and staffing for hosting special events, all use of the Museum facility must be preapproved by the Ackland Art

Auckland Art Museum Use Policy

Museum and conducted in accordance with the University's Policy on Use of University Facilities and the Auckland Art Museum Use Policy.

The following activities are prohibited: (a) weddings or related events; (b) political or religious meetings; and (c) fundraising events for organizations other than the Auckland Art Museum.

All exceptions made to these policies regarding use of the Museum facilities are solely at the discretion of the Auckland Art Museum and must be preapproved.

III. Procedure for Reserving Facility Use

Requests for the use of the Auckland Art Museum facility should be initiated at least six to eight weeks in advance by the completion of the Museum Use Agreement.

Once approved, the Event Coordinator will contact the designated event organizer of the group to arrange and confirm (no later than one to two weeks prior to the event) the logistics of the event including:

- the physical set-up of the event (tables, chairs, A/V equipment, etc. and their placement)
- a list of vendors (caterer, bartender, musicians, etc.) and related items (menu, etc.)
- a timeline for setup and breakdown. (Please note, the vendor load in/out timeline will be scheduled by the Event Coordinator.)

Final attendance numbers will be due three days prior to your function date. This will be the number that will be used for preparation by the Auckland Art Museum, as well as all vendors.

IV. Rules and Conditions for Use

All arrangements will be in accordance with the following rules and conditions for use of the Auckland Art Museum facilities.

Timing: Private events may only be booked outside of The Auckland Art Museum's normal business hours. The chart below outlines the hours available for private event bookings. The timing below is based on event time only and is not inclusive of set up and break down.

Monday & Tuesday	8:00 a.m. - 9:00 p.m.
Wednesday & Thursday	8:00 a.m. - 10:00 a.m.	6:00 p.m. - 9:00 p.m.
Friday & Saturday	8:00 a.m. - 10:00 a.m.	6:00 p.m. - 10:00 p.m.
Sunday	10:00 a.m. - 1:00 p.m.	6:00 p.m. - 9:00 p.m.

Event Management: The event organizer of the group must be present at the Museum during the event, and for the set-up and clean-up following the event. The group is responsible for leaving the used space and kitchen clean and free of trash.

Assigned Space: The Ackland Art Museum will determine which areas of the building may be used for the event and where food and beverages may be allowed.

Vendors: All vendors (e.g., caterer, bartender, rental company, etc.) are subject to approval by the Ackland Art Museum. Our list of approved vendors is below. All vendor load in/out must be scheduled by the Event Coordinator.

Security: All events scheduled in the Ackland Art Museum require sufficient security staff. The Museum's Chief of Security will determine the number of guards required. Depending on the number of guards needed, additional fees may apply.

Food and Beverages: All menus including food and beverages must be preapproved by the Ackland Art Museum. The Ackland is equipped with a limited kitchen. The Museum will assume responsibility for proper signage to designate galleries not to be used for food and drink consumption. Please be aware of the following conditions:

Flames: Use of matches, candles, chafing dishes, or any other form of heat in the gallery space is prohibited in the Ackland Art Museum galleries. Induction chafing dishes are allowed if kept low enough to not cause steam.

Beverages: All liquids packed under pressure (carbonated) must be opened in the kitchen before transported to the service bar. Dark-colored beverages including red wine are allowed.

Alcoholic beverages may be served under the terms and conditions consistent with the laws of the state of North Carolina and the policies of the University. University groups are required to turn in a permission to serve alcohol request form from the provost's office before any alcohol may enter the building. Alcohol may not be stored overnight at the Ackland. Alcohol must be served by a professional bartender, either from a catering company or a bartending service.

Tableware and Linens: Linens can be rented from the Ackland for $15 per linen, or rented from elsewhere. Rental equipment must be removed from the loading dock the day after the event unless pre-approved by the Event Coordinator.

Décor: All décor must be pre-approved by the Event Coordinator. NO glitter, confetti, sparkles, feathers or mylar balloons. Nothing may be affixed to the walls, security desk, etc.

Photography and Video Recording: Photography and video recording is not permitted in the galleries without prior permission. Tripods and flash bulbs may not be used.

Entertainment: All entertainment and their placement in the galleries must be preapproved by the Ackland Art Museum.

Audio-visual Equipment: All use and placement of audio-visual equipment (desktop podium, projector and screen, etc.) must be preapproved by the Ackland Art Museum.

Parking: The Ackland does not have its own parking lot. Information about weeknight parking can be found at www.move.unc.edu/parking/visitor-parking/weeknight-payment/. University lots are free and open to the public starting at 5 p.m. on Fridays and Saturdays. University lots can be booked using the UNC Special Event Parking Form (www.move.unc.edu/events/request-forms/event-request/). Additional town parking information may be found at www.parkonthehill.com. Contact the Event Coordinator if you wish to offer valet parking for your guests.
